MOBILE WALLS

WORKPLACES
REIMAGINED

Forget everything you thought you knew about “moveable walls”

We’re not talking about demountable glass walls or the same old wall partitions. We’re talking about truly mobile walls - walls that slide side-to-side allowing you to create custom-sized rooms on the fly, to turn a small two-person whiteboarding space into an all-company presentation space within seconds, to use one space in infinite ways with a simple push of a wall.

Collaboration and flexibility are the name of the game in modern workplaces. We give you the tools to make them reality.

The flexibility of Spacesaver Mobile Walls allows you to change your space and the way you work as often as you need with no deconstruction process required. Walls can be outfitted with anything your organization needs - whiteboards, technology, storage, display screens, even seating. Once the walls and rail are installed, simply slide them to create the room size you need for your meeting or workspace.

Collaboration Zones

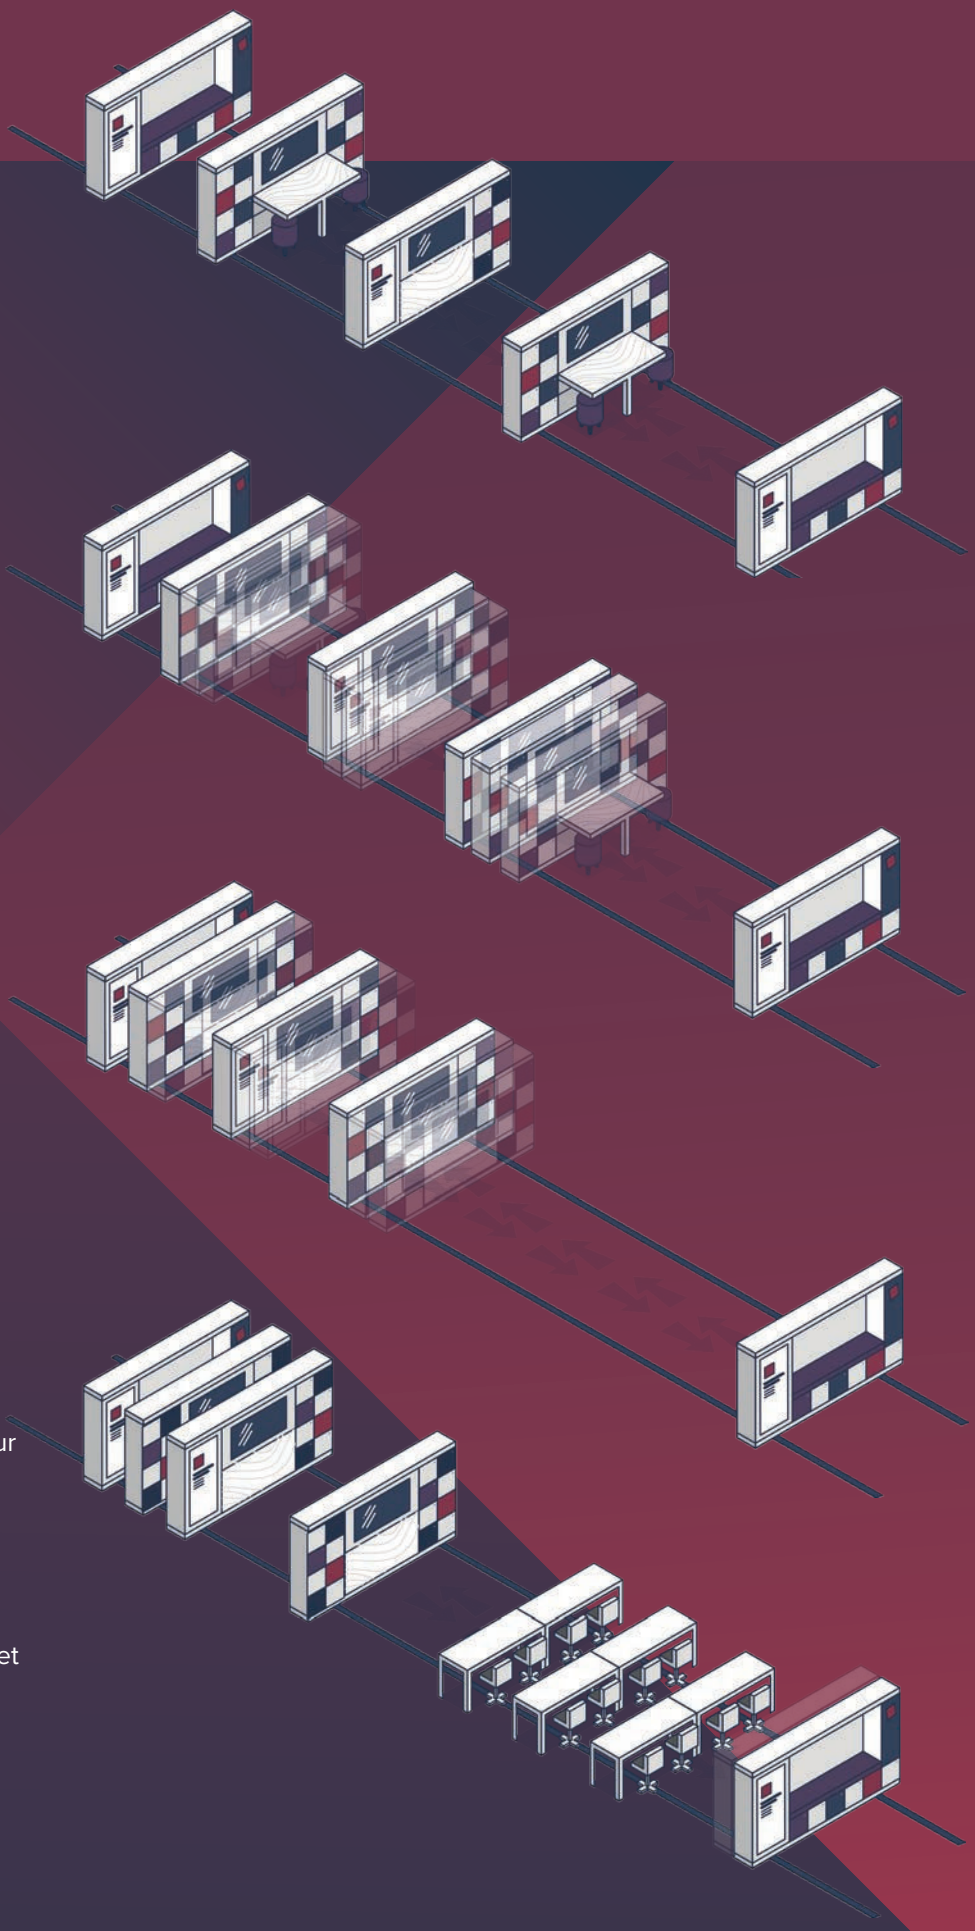

Mobile walls create the perfect small group work environments for collaboration and on-the-fly meetings. Brainstorm together with whiteboard walls, have a working session with built-in display screens, and keep all the supplies you need for a successful meeting nearby with storage built right into the walls.

On-the-Fly Transition

Mobile walls slide side-to-side to create the perfect-sized room for your business' need. Within seconds, you can transition a room from a two-person meeting to a large group presentation just by pushing the walls. No lifting, no construction, and no unsightly accordion-style dividers needed.

Team Zone

Never again worry about whether the right room is available for your meeting or cram your team into that conference room (and we all know "that conference room.") By sliding the walls to create the perfect size, you can open up more space to move in modular furniture, let in more light, and create the most productive environment for a presentation or meeting.

Mobile Kiosks – The new form and function of keeping it all together

Ideal for open work environments, mobile kiosks provide the novelty and aesthetic appeal of a sleek pop-up shop, coffee bar, or unique workspace with the convenience of a self-contained kiosk. Seen here as a bookstore and gift shop, a mobile kiosk's walls slide out when the store is open and slide together to securely lock up when closed.
